

Stefan Maier holds the Chair in Hybrid Nanosystems at LMU Munich, and the Lee-Lucas Chair in Experimental Physics at Imperial College London. His research group investigates fundamental processes in nanophotonics and nanoplasmonics. He graduated from Caltech in 2003 and has since then worked in the UK and in Germany.